Executive Director—Stacy Rhodes

Do you ever stop and think what happened 5, 10, or even 25 years ago in your squad? If you have ever done this, what kind of research did you do to find out? Did you ask some of the members that were around back then, did you look it up in your minutes, did you look through old photographs to find your answer? This brings to reason why I am bringing this up. I love to see historical things and look at the way things were done years ago. There is nothing like going to a historical place, to see what has been preserved and to think about what has happened there. Take for instance, visiting Cades Cove in the Great Smoky Mountains, There are several houses and churches that made up the community that have been preserved. What were some of the things these people did just to stay alive during the times that they were there? Have you ever been to a Civil War battlefield? I have had the pleasure of visiting a few in the state and it really makes you wonder how things transgressed during the battles. Without the lands and records of these battles, we would never know what happened. Just think about the all the things that have been preserved in the Smithsonian Museums, the National Parks, and even in our State and local museums. If someone had not thought ahead and gathered all this information, our future generations would not be able to go there and see in person what has been preserved.

Preserving your squads history is a very important part of your unit. Without documented history you cannot look back and see what happened if you weren't there. Preserving this history can be challenging sometimes but it is very interesting and is something that every squad should be doing. With today's technology, digital camera's, cell phones with camera's and even IPAD's with camera's it makes it so easy to document what has happened. Someone has to take the initiative to gather all this information and put it together so that it can be saved for future generations to look at and see what happened during this time. Another nice thing that you can do if you have the room in your building is to take a corner and build a case to show some of the older equipment that is no longer in service. It adds a nice touch to your building and lets people that come in see what was used in earlier times and compare it with today's newer equipment. It is also nice to add any pictures to add to this so everyone can see who was there during that time and if any milestones met by them.

Lets move on to the convention and EMS Symposium. It is just around the corner and we are excited to have Knoxville as our host. If you have not already made your reservations now is a good time to do it. All the information that you need to make your reservations and register is in the center of this edition. Get you teams ready for the competitions and come out and have some fun. We look forward to seeing you there.

Do your duty in all things. You cannot do more, you should never wish to do less.

General Robert E. Lee

President's Page—John Weaver

It is time to prepare for convention. I hope all are ready. It will be another great convention. I am looking forward to seeing all of you again. Come out fellowship with us, compete, submit someone for an award, learn something new and just have a good time.

The officers enjoy seeing each of you on the region travels. If you can't come to the convention this is when you can see the officers and ask questions. If we can be of any assistance in the meantime please contact us. We will be happy to assist you.

I want to personally thank each of you that came out to Rescue Day on the Hill. You were very important to the success of "our" day at the capitol. We have discussed with our representatives at the state level and they do not want us to get a lobbyist. They state that it will hurt us in the long run because if we can afford to pay someone to do that job, do we really need more money. Our Executive Director will be in Nashville more in the upcoming year to help keep us in their minds. That is the recommendation from our Senators and State Representatives.

The state office is available to assist you in any way just as the officers are. One other thing that all should consider, is to make sure your squad is receiving the emails. If you are not please contact Stacy at the state office so we can get this set up correctly. We send out several emails concerning upcoming issues that we need to get out quickly. These are very important to keep all informed.

As all are aware of, we lost another great member of our association, Morris Simpson. He was a great teacher, mentor and friend. He was very outspoken. If you ever took a class under him you know this all too well. He will be missed by all that knew him. TARS training is what it is because of him. Keep up with your older members. They are a wealth of information for your squads. Do not lose the information that is in their heads. Do not forget about them because they are what helped to make your squad what it is.

As summer is upon us, remember to take care of each other out on the calls that we have to make. It is going to be very hot. Try to keep people rotated so that they do not overheat. Take care of yourselves and each other.

Thank you for allowing me to serve as your President. It has been my honor. If I can help you in any way give me a call or shoot me an email.

My God! How little do my countrymen know what precious blessings they are in possession of, and which no other people on earth enjoy!

Thomas Jefferson

State Vice-President—Kevin “Bucky” Ayers

I would just like to start out by saying HELLO to all and hope all things are going well, and also have been able to build on what I spoke to you about in my last letter which is membership. As we all know it is very difficult to get VOLUNTEERS to give their time in our line of work these days. I would like to encourage all of you to work hard in recruiting new members so we can keep our TARS organization going for years to come. In a sad note I would like to extend my deepest sympathy to the Bill Mingle family in their loss of Mrs. Shirley Mingle, she will be sadly missed by all the TARS family. As this year starts to get going training is kicking off and going well for the classes we have had so far. We still have several to go and it is not too late to get your name in for some good training, and to meet and make some new friends or see some old friends. We all know that without the training we cannot do our job efficiently and in the end everyone suffers for something gone wrong.

This has been my first year as TARS Vice President and a very interesting one to say the least, but I can't say enough thanks to the support I have had when the time arises and need help. I just hope that everyone feels like the job I have been doing is sufficient and not let anyone down. I know that I still have a lot to learn in this position to do the job right and serve you all as TARS members. One of the strongest values I thought I would have in this is on training, but after the last few months I have learned there is a lot to look after in all aspects of training.

In closing I hope all has a great and safe summer, as we all know this is when our help may be needed most due to the activities going on and the travels along the highways for summer vacations. I hope that all of you know that if you need anything I will do my best to help you in any way I can, and that I am just a phone call away. To all, stay safe and May God Bless each of you.

Watch out! Don't let the BUGS bite!

Now that warmer weather has arrived, local squads will be answering an increasing number of calls. Many calls will be in the wooded areas and near the water. Mosquitoes and ticks are plentiful in those areas and many other places, as well.

Mosquitoes are attracted by the body odor and sweat of humans and they can leave their mark on you. Most people feel the mosquito bite but the bump from the bite can take up to two days to appear and the itching that follows will drive you crazy. Contact your doctor if you have fever, severe headache, nausea and vomiting and body aches along with the bite. Mosquitoes carry such diseases as malaria, yellow fever and West Niles virus in humans. They also carry heartworms which can be life threatening to your dog. More deaths are associated with mosquito bites than any other animal. Only the females feed on blood but all mosquitoes require water to breed. It only takes a few inches of water for a female to deposit her eggs. To keep mosquitoes under control any standing water around your home should be drained every few days.

Ticks are second only to mosquitoes as the leading carrier of disease to humans. Unlike mosquitoes, ticks cause nearly no sensation when they bite down. However once the tick is spotted, it can easily be removed by grabbing the head firmly using fine point tweezers, getting as close to the skin as possible and pulling the tick outward from the skin. Save the tick by placing it in a sealable container. Some, like deer ticks, carry Lyme disease and Rocky Mountain spotted fever. Be aware that it can take three to 30 days for a rash to develop from the tick bite. This is when you need medical attention.

See you at the State Directors Meeting in Murfreesboro in July.

State Treasurer—Ross Musgrave

Greetings to all from Nashville!

I'd like to take this opportunity to remind you of some important dates and requirements that must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service. If your squad is a 501(C)3 organization with the IRS, you must file a tax return called a form 990. This form must be filed by the 15th day of the fifth month following the end of your accounting year. I bring this up because one common fiscal year end is coming up, June 30. If your squad uses this as your accounting year, remember to file with the IRS by November 15th. I know taxes are not a popular topic with any of us, but as a non-profit organization you do not owe any taxes, but you must still file this form. Failure to file this form for three years will result in the loss of your tax exempt status.

I have enjoyed traveling the state and visiting many of you. Keep up the good work! I look forward to seeing you at the convention in Knoxville in October.

As always, if I can be of any assistance, please just let me know.

Does Your Department Need New & Better Equipment?

Would your department benefit by receiving grants from the Department of Homeland Security and FEMA such as the SAFER Grant and the Fire Act Grant? John Almon with the Williamson County Rescue Squad, the State Officers, and the State Office are committed to doing everything that we can to work toward getting our members eligible to receive these grants. All captains should have received a survey from the state office in the mail. The more information that we have the better our chances are at getting rescue squads approved for these grants. Please take the time to fill these out and send them back to the state office. The quicker we get our information together the quicker we can begin talking to the grant suppliers. We appreciate your help in getting these returned by July 31st.

Region III Vice-President—Cecil Nunley

I recently just returned from the Region III meeting and made many travels to our squads in that area. The June Meetings will soon be over and then we will be gearing up for the annual convention. I hope that we have a big crowd and lots of folks that compete and show off their skills in the competitions.

We have lost several dear friends and fellow squad members this year. Some unexpectedly, as well as some who fought for quite some time. I want to extend a personal thank you for those of you that took the time out of your busy everyday lives to send cards, make phone calls, and attend the services for those whom we have lost.

Fortunately, our call outs have been a lot less so far this summer than it has been in the past. That being said, I hope everyone has a Safe and Happy Summer.

Courage and perseverance have a magical talisman, before which difficulties disappear and obstacles vanish into air.

John Quincy Adams

Region IV Vice-President—Ross Guy

Did you remember to say “Thank You” to the squad that hosted the rescue college class that you just completed. I have noticed on Sunday afternoon when the class is over and certificates are being handed out everyone thanks Rusty and the other instructors. As an instructor, I can tell you it means a lot to us. But the people you really need to thank are members of the host squad. Before there is a class scheduled a squad or squads must agree to host the class. Preparations begin weeks before the Friday night classroom session. It can be expensive when you consider the cost of materials (depending on which class you are hosting). Then there is the cost of food and drinks for Saturday and Sunday lunch. And don't forget the cases of bottled water we drink on those hot summer days when we have to wear turn out gear . So the next time you attend a rescue college class go the host squad members on Friday night and again on Sunday afternoon and give them a well deserved pat on the back . Let them know how much you appreciate what they do for you to be able to update your training. Hope you all have a great enjoyable, and safe summer.

State Secretary—Djujana Naylor

Hello everyone! Let me start out if I may with a quote from Charlie Daniels. “Ain’t it great to be alive and in Tennessee?”

Over the last few years I have had the privilege of traveling across this great state of ours and visiting the members of our association. During this time I guess you might say I’ve become a little biased, because in my book there isn’t another state as beautiful, an organization better or people more giving. It is an honor to be a member of the Tennessee Association of Rescue Squads and to have met and be involved with such an amazing group of men and women.

Each time we have meetings, it is always good to see those “same ole” familiar faces, but it is even better to see those new unfamiliar smiling faces. These are the faces of our future. As the “old hands” of our organization let’s continue to educate these new and upcoming members. These faces of today are our officers, executive directors, college instructors and training coordinators of tomorrow. Teach them our history in order that they may learn from our mistakes or better what we already have in place. Too many times we let our history die, however our history is what this great organization is built on. Let’s not forget. Brush up on your history, there just might be a pop quiz at convention.

Speaking of convention... Get those teams ready to compete. Come on out and have fun. The extrication and medical competitions are always sure to have a twist and the ropes and team work competitions have a few knots that have to be worked out, but a fun time is had by all. Visit the vendors who help make convention possible and come by and see me at John Bird’s General Store and see what new items are available. Also at convention I will be seeking re-election as your State Secretary. I thank you all for allowing me to serve you in this capacity for the past two years, and I look forward to continuing to serve you.

May God bless you and I’ll see you in Knoxville!!!

It's newsletter time, again. I want to thank the squads that hosted the region meetings. Not only did we have a great turn out but each of you has done a great job!

Remember, that we are trying to get our Honor Guard completed across the state. We will be striving toward the proper way to dress whenever we pay respect to deceased members. We want everyone to have the same uniform. Plus, we are now taking money up for the Honor Guard to buy badges. If you would like to join the Honor Guard then you need to speak with your captain of your region.

I am looking forward to the convention this year. I hope we have a great turn out. As Joe always says "It's your convention." I will also be seeking re-election again this year as your state chaplain. Don't forget to send in your nominations for the awards this year. A lot of members are eligible.

In closing, please remember our friend, Morris Simpson. He needs our prayers. God bless you, Morris. My family and I will continue to keep you in our prayers.

State Historian—Dale Dodds

I hope everyone is having a good year and I hope to see as many members as possible at our symposium and convention in Knoxville this year. I really enjoy Region Travels and Meetings across the state and I have made many friends that I would not have met if I were not state officer. I have enjoyed this year as State Historian and will be seeking reelection for 2012-2013 and would love your support. As I have indicated in some of the contact I have made with you, TARS will have a new competition for all the scrapbook lovers out there. This year we will have The Standard Scrapbooking competition and a new category called Modern Scrapbooking. The Modern Scrapbooking will be those Scrapbooks that are printed and bound commercially but will still be required to be designed by a member or members of a TARS squad. The Standard Scrapbooking will remain unchanged and the scrapbooking rules will apply to both categories. Don't forget to turn in your photos and newspaper articles to me before August 15 for an additional 10 points on your final score. This is very important because last year's top 4 scores were within less than two points. If anyone has any questions please contact me via e-mail at TARSHistorian@aol.com or you can call/text me at 423-823-0622 but please leave me a message if I don't answer. Thanks again for a great year and I hope to see you soon.
