

RESCUE

SPOTLIGHT ON ...By Steve Carden

PARIS-HENRY COUNTY RESCUE SQUAD

The Paris-Henry County Rescue Squad (PHCRS) is located in Northwest Tennessee along the Kentucky and Tennessee border. Henry County (pop. 31,000+), an area of approximately 562 sq. mi., was created in 1821 from Indian lands and was named in honor of Patrick Henry (1736-1799), a Virginia statesman, patriot and Revolutionary leader. Paris, the County Seat, is well know as the Catfish Capitol of Tennessee and is also home of the PHCRS headquarters.

The unit was one of the early rescue squads to organize in Tennessee, formed by eight (8) charter members in 1955, the same year that TARS was founded. Without a doubt, the formation of the squad focused on water rescue and recovery in the early years & today remains a primary mission for the squad. With the Tennessee River and a sizeable portion of the Kentucky Lake in its area, it represents one of the largest bodies of water in the State and attracts thousands of boaters, sportsmen, and barge traffic year round.

In the early days, equipment was scarce and no doubt operations were dependent on the goodwill of many businesses and the citizens to be able to establish a good foundation for the squad. The City of Paris leased a lot to the squad to allow for a modest building in the first couple of years of the squad's existence.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE...By Bill (B.J.) Robbins

Fellow Squadsmen & Families:

I would like to take this opportunity as your State President to thank each squad and their families, from East to West Tennessee and several of the surrounding Southeastern States for the support that you have given me for the past ten (10) years.

The core membership for the TARS has always been the Volunteer Rescue Squads. Our Association remains strong keeping the long time valued tradition intact and allowing growth through the Associate Members. There has been a lot of good training offered this year from one end of the State to the other. Also remember the better trained that we are - the better we can serve our communities.

We have been blessed in many ways, which make many people ponder on what has made TARS so successful. My theory is that it is our members. Each of you share a desire to help our fellowman and you share a bond of closeness no matter where you are in the great State of Tennessee.

President's Message Con't

Throughout the past (10) years in this Association I have made many friends. I have also witnessed many changes in our rescue squads and our squads in the future will be shaped by how we adapt to the ever-changing world. Take time to THANK your families for letting us care for so many. Without them we could not do our jobs.

It is only a few months until convention time. Our convention this year will be hosted by Chattanooga, which will be on the 11, 12, & 13, of October in 2007 in Chattanooga, Tennessee. Remember our organization is run by those that show up, so get involved and help your squad compete in this year's competition. Everyone who tries is a winner

All of our officers and training personnel have worked hard at keeping this organization moving forward, we need every squad's input to make this convention a success.

I would also like to thank the squads that responded when I called them for help, whether it was on water or someone was lost, it could not be done by one squad, it takes a team effort. Thanks again from the bottom of my heart for giving of your time and the support that you have so graciously gave to help me in anything that I have asked of you or your squad. . .

Although this is my last year as President, I will join the ranks of our Organization's Past Presidents and look forward to continuing to serve. Come and enjoy the convention, it is here for you! Be a winner, stay safe, train hard and may God bless each of you.

REGIONAL NEWS

STATE VICE PRESIDENT...By Jim Williamson

Hello to all, I hope that everyone is doing fine. Summer is in full swing and is one of the busiest times of the year. Increased highway travel and water activities result in increased call volumes all across the State. We should be ever mindful that help is only a phone call away.

The Region meetings were great. I appreciate the effort made by the squads that hosted them and also appreciate those in attendance making time in their schedules to be there. If you were not able to make it, your presence was missed and we look forward to seeing you at the next meeting.

Convention will be here before we know it. The rooms always go quickly so don't wait until late to make your reservations. A great time is expected to be had by all in Chattanooga.

Thank you in advance to Chattanooga-Hamilton County for all of the countless hours of hard work that you will put in to make this convention a success.

I would like to thank everyone for your support of me as a State Officer for the past six years. I have enjoyed all of the opportunities I have been given to learn more about this Organization, but more than that, I enjoy all of the friendships I have made along the way. I am excited about watching TARS continue to grow and improve and appreciate your continued support of me as I seek to further serve this organization in the future. ■

Dyer County Rescue Squad Dedicates New Headquarters "Phillip Pinion Building."

GLEN MOORE, CAPTAIN TARS HONOR GUARD

Each year the National EMS Memorial Service is held in Roanoke, Virginia on Memorial Day weekend. The purpose of this service is to honor emergency medical services personnel who have died in the line of duty and to recognize the ultimate sacrifice they have made for their fellow man. During the service a family member or agency representative was presented with a United States flag that had flown over the U.S. Capitol denoting the honoree's service to their country, a white rose representing their undying love, along with a medallion signifying their eternal memory.

Also as part of the service, each person being recognized is represented by their state flag. After the last name was read there was a moment of silence, followed by a last call and the playing of taps. The names of those who were honored during this ceremony will be engraved on a bronze oak leaf and added to the National EMS Memorial "Tree of Life." The oak leaf has historically been accepted as a symbol of strength, valor and solid character. All of these are common characteristics of the men and women honored.

This year's program honored 16 fallen EMS personnel from all across the United States including one of our own from Tennessee. Joseph "Joe" Donald Snow from Clarksville, TN, a member of the Montgomery County EMS and TARS was honored. Joe passed away on May 28, 2006 due to injuries suffered during a Water Rescue and Recovery mission at a low level dam near Clarksville. He was a devoted father and a dedicated employee who loved his work. Safety was his utmost concern. Joe was an experienced SCUBA diver and paramedic and he gave countless hours to train and oversee the service's Emergency Response Team. Ultimately, Joe gave his life doing what was dear to him.

Members of the TARS honor guard attended this memorial service on May 26, 2007 at the First Baptist Church in Roanoke, VA. Those attending were Tommy Bowers, Region II (Blount County) and Glen Moore, Region IV (Hardeman County). Both members participated in the service to honor Joe and his family. Tommy carried the Tennessee State flag, while Glen served as the escort for the family, which included Joe's two sons, his father, sister and brother.

TARS honor guards have attended and participated in this service for the past seven years. But this year's service will be especially remembered by both Tommy and Glen for many years to come because they had the honor to present "one of our own" to be included on the "Tree of Life."

By the mid 1960's the city had donated the lot and other local organizations including the Elks Lodge & the Paris Fire Department, had donated equipment. By then squad had expanded their building and officially joined TARS as a Unit member. The 1970's saw the unit accept the vehicle rescue mission as well as continued growth in membership, training, and equipment to conduct its expanding operations. While expansion of the existing building was accomplished the following decade to better serve the community, the decade of the 90's focused on finding the location and means to build a new facility for the organization.

That goal was realized before the new millennium in 1999 when the squad moved into a newly constructed 9600 sq. ft. facility located on a 5 acre tract donated by Henry County. Centrally located in the heart of the County on a new bypass, the squad built a fantastic facility that will serve the County well into the future. About 1/3rd of the new building is designated as administrative space for meeting rooms, kitchen, day-room, communications area, office space for squad officials and bunk areas. The balance of space consists of five (5) large bays around 80 ft. deep that provides ample storage to house the squad's equipment.

It seems the new decade is quickly taking shape with the goal of updating rolling stock and other unit equipment. New Rescue One boats, a Ford quad cab truck, and newly acquired F-550 Extrication unit, trailered four wheelers, and Mobile Command Post have replaced and supplemented the squads tools of trade.

With 39 active members, a third are EMT to Paramedic level, about a fifth are firefighters, and membership also includes dispatchers, deputies and a coroner, as well as 2 divers. That diversity blesses the squad with a healthy mix of well trained emergency volunteers dedicated to serve their community in a professional manner.

Over 50 years of success and hard work has proven a good foundation that promises a bright future for the PHCRS. A motto depicted below the Association emblem, that was moved from the old original building, hangs prominently on a wall in the new headquarters says..."The Desire to Serve, The Ability to Perform, & The Courage to Act".

As long as we all embrace that philosophy and work together, our future can be bright and promising in service to our fellow man.
